

Brenton Charlton – Vice President Nominee

I will bring extensive expertise, over thirty years (30) of multi-agency collaborative relationships across the emergency services sector and government, with a passion of always staying abreast of emerging trends, technologies, best practices, and implementing innovative solutions to best serve the Australasian Road Rescue Organisation (ARRO).

My expertise is derived from senior key leadership positions and command management operational exposure, where I have planned, resourced, and led specialised multi-disciplinary teams in NSW and overseas focusing on emergency management & rescue operations, high risk law enforcement, security, and counter terrorism operations. I am currently the Commissioner of VRA Rescue NSW.

I have a strong background in emergency management, rescue operations and a commitment to enhancing all rescue disciplines and capabilities across Australia. I am eager to leverage and integrate future capabilities such as: Vertical Rescue (VR), Search & Rescue (SAR), K-9 Search, Urban Search & Rescue (USAR), Flood Rescue (FR) and specialist paramedical services to broaden the scope of and lead to transforming ARRO into the number one holistic peak rescue organisation in the region.

I am dedicated to fostering inter-agency and international partnerships, sharing knowledge, and developing comprehensive programs that will contribute significantly to ARRO's vision of becoming a world leader in rescue.
